

Summary of Administrative Experience

Roger Alan Pick

Although I have not held a formal administrative title, I do have administrative experience. A listing of my committee assignments can be found on the website <http://p.faculty.umkc.edu/pickr/adminex.htm> These committee assignments include being member and occasionally chair of many committees within my school, within my campus, and once as a member at the university system level. I have done curriculum revision, and I have successfully navigated a new degree emphasis through a university and state bureaucracy. I have mentored a number of young academics, at both the doctoral student level and the assistant professor level. I have served as leader of the MIS emphasis at the University of Missouri – Kansas City. That duty includes advising students, developing a schedule for courses and faculty, and building relationships with practitioners in the area.
