Required and Recommended Materials	A custom course book containing cases must be purchased from either the UMKC bookstore or Harvard Business School Publishing for about $24 (credit or debit cards accepted) and then downloaded. For an additional charge, you may have a printed, bound coursepack shipped to you. The link is as follows: https://cb.hbsp.harvard.edu/cbmp/access/31090917 . If you have problems reaching the download site, try again in fifteen minutes. If the problem repeats, contact Harvard Business Publishing Customer Service at 800-545-7685 or custserv@hbsp.harvard.edu . All students are expected to purchase and read these materials, consisting of the following cases:

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • F. Warren McFarlan; H. Jeff Smith, Agrico, Inc.: A Software Dilemma, #189085 • Robert D. Austin, Warren Ritchie, Gregory Garrett, Volkswagen of America: Managing IT Priorities, #606003 • F. Warren McFarlan, Robert D. Austin, Caregroup, #303097 • Robert D. Austin, Jeremy C. Short, IPremier Co. (A): Denial of Service Attack, #609092 • David A. Garvin, Rachna Tahilyani, MindTree: A Community of Communities, #311049 • F. Warren McFarlan, Enabling Business Strategy with IT at the World Bank, #304055
Evaluation and Grading Criteria	Grading: The exams will be worth 50 points each. Each case discussion will be worth 10 points, with the lowest two dropped. Plus and minus grades are used on those relatively rare occasions when a student’s numerical grade is on the boundary between two letter grade ranges. Exams: There will be two 75-minute short-essay and objective exams. You may bring a single sheet of paper containing notes to assist you during the exam. This sheet can be no larger than 8.5 by 11 inches. The margins and font on this sheet may be as small as you wish. You may use both sides of the sheet. Essay answers will be graded based upon both the answer and the amount of reasoning and facts given to support the answer. Exams will focus upon class lecture material and upon analysis of case studies. You are expected to do each exam on your own without assistance from anyone. Use of e-mail, chat, or similar facilities during an exam will result in a zero grade for the exam. The contents of the exam are to be considered as confidential material for one week: you are not to discuss exam contents until a week after the exam is administered. Cases: There will be seven graded case discussions. Most are based upon actual managerial situations, but one is disguised, and one is fictional. Preparing for these case discussions is crucial to your success in this class. The individual class participation grade is based upon the case studies. Immediately after each case discussion, I will note who was present, who spoke at all, and will subjectively judge whose participation was excellent. Students who never participate in class should not be surprised to learn that their class participation grade will seriously lower their overall grade in this course. If you are unsure how to begin participating, you can get started by looking at the financial situation of the firm (when the case provides the data), at the firm's website (when the case is not fictional or disguised),

	the rhetorical questions that appear at the beginning or end of many cases, or the questions in the course schedule below. The lowest class participation grade will be dropped. I plan on posting the discussion grades on the Blackboard site. On Effort: Just as is the case with salary determination in most workplaces, grades in this class will be determined by your performance rather than by your effort or needs.
Student Learning Outcomes	The goals of this course are fairly simple. By the end of the course, you as a future general manager should be able to demonstrate your knowledge concerning what an information system is, the characteristics of common types of information systems, how such systems are developed and delivered, and what can go wrong (both in the development process and with an operational system). You should know how the Information Systems functional area might be organized and governed, and what are the likely consequences of various governance mechanisms. Towards the end of the term, we will go in-depth on two specific types of systems that are receiving considerable management attention today: legacy systems and knowledge management systems. You will also be expected in this course to demonstrate certain critical thinking skills in analyzing case studies. You should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify and explain context, issues, and stakeholders. • Interpret information. • Evaluate assumptions and supporting data. • Synthesize information and data and thereby draw inferences. • Frame personal point of view and acknowledge alternate perspectives. 	http://www.umkc.edu/assessment/downloads/handbook-2011.pdf http://www.umkc.edu/assessment/index.cfm Nathan Lindsay, Assistant Vice Provost for Assessment 816-235-6084 lindsayn@umkc.edu
Course Expectations, Course Policies, Requirements and Standards for Student Coursework and Student Behavior	Responsibilities: You have responsibilities to yourselves, your fellow classmates, and the professor. You are preparing for a career in business. You have a right to be treated professionally, and a responsibility to treat other people, both professors and fellow students, professionally. In particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are expected to attend class. Each student is responsible for all information covered in lectures, all announcements made in class, and all handouts distributed during class. If you do not attend class, you will not do well in this course. According to the July-August, 2010 issue of Academe, "By tolerating absenteeism, teachers ignore an obvious fact: class attendance significantly improves academic performance. Even after controlling for student ability and prior interest in the course material, studies ... have demonstrated the robust relationship between attendance and academic performance. For example, ... grades of students who regularly attended large lecture courses ... were on average a full letter grade higher than those of students who attended only sporadically. ... These and other studies strongly indicate that students should attend all class meetings if they want to maximize their grades," (page 26).

- Be prepared for and participate in class lecture and case presentation discussions activities. Please ask questions when you don't understand the material and share comments with the class.
- If you make an appointment with me either keep it or call or email to cancel.
- For 2.5 hours, you owe it to yourself to pay attention to class: turn off your cell phones, turn off your pagers. No text messaging. No Facebook. No surfing the web. No email. I will not enforce this policy unless your behavior is blatant, but your grade will tend to suffer if you violate it.
- Members of this course are expected to treat each other with respect. During discussions, be patient with ideas that at first might seem weird, be patient with the other members of this course.
- Contribute to group in-class activities.
- You are also responsible for being aware of all assignments, due dates, and other course scheduling information.

Cooperation: No form of cooperation during exams is allowed. You may not claim others' work as your own. If academic dishonesty is detected, you will receive a zero on the exam, and your case will be referred to the Vice Provost for investigation and possible disciplinary action.

Makeups: The fact that a class participation grade will be dropped takes into account the likelihood that over the course of a semester illness or a business trip will force you to miss class. Makeup examination can be scheduled during business hours during the week before or after the exam.

Incomplete: I am permitted to give incomplete grades to students who have been unable to complete the work of the course because of illness or serious reasons beyond their control. This work must be completed within one calendar year to avoid the incomplete grade lapsing to an F. You should bring up problems in advance when you can do so.

MIS Emphasis	This course is only the briefest of introductions to the Information Systems functional area. For information & announcements about the Management of Information Systems emphasis area within the UMKC MBA degree, visit the file located at http://p.web.umkc.edu/pickr/misimba.htm. For greater depth in this area, we plan to offer the following MIS elective classes: MIS 5529 “Decision Support Systems” Fall, 2015 and subsequent falls. Systems for analytical processing and business analytics in order to support improved management decisions and decision processes. Some hands-on work with Excel. MIS 5552 “Data Base Management” Summer, 2015 and subsequent summers. Covering design and administration of databases for transaction processing and analytical processing. Some hands-on work with Access. MIS 5554 “Systems Analysis, Design, and Engineering” Summer, 2016 & subsequent summers. An overview of system development that focuses on the requirements analysis portion of software development: how do you in either the role of a developer or in the role of client/customer determine what features are needed? MIS 5558 “Management of Information Systems” Spring, 2015 and subsequent springs. In effect, a continuation of MIS 5503 focusing on skills a CIO needs: system acquisition, supplier relations, funding information technology (IT), impact of IT on productivity, and IT architecture. If you liked how I ran MIS 5503, consider taking MIS 5558!

Academic Inquiry, Course Discussion and Privacy	Faculty allowing recording - University of Missouri System Executive Order No. 38 lays out principles regarding the sanctity of classroom discussions at the university. The policy is described fully in Section 200.015 of the Collected Rules and Regulations. In this class, students may make audio or video recordings of course activity unless specifically prohibited by the faculty member. However, the redistribution of any audio or video recordings of statements or comments from the course to individuals who are not students in the course is prohibited without the express permission of the faculty member and of any students who are recorded, including those recordings prepared by an instructor. Students found to have violated this policy are subject to discipline in accordance with provisions of Section 200.020 of the Collected Rules and Regulations of the University of Missouri pertaining to student conduct matters.	Executive Order #38 (CRR 200.015)
Attendance Policy	Students are expected to attend and participate in classes. Advance notice of attendance policies of academic units and individual instructors should be given, and such notice should be in writing. Students should notify instructors of excused absences in advance, where possible. Students who have an excused absence are expected to make arrangements with instructors for alternative or make-up work. Such arrangements should be made in advance of the absence, where possible. Instructors should accommodate excused absences to the extent that an accommodation can be made that does not unreasonably interfere with the learning objectives of the course or unduly burden the instructor. Attendance policies shall be applied in a non-discriminatory manner.	http://www.umkc.edu/catalog/attendancepolicy
Campus Safety	It is possible that it may be necessary to cancel class due to inclement weather or some other emergency. This class will meet if UMKC is open; conversely, if UMKC is closed, this class is canceled. Students who are unable to attend class during bad weather when the class has not been canceled should send email or call and leave a message indicating this. If class is canceled due to any reason, all activities scheduled for the canceled session will take place during the next class meeting including exams. Changes in activities for subsequent classes will be announced. If UMKC cancels or closes the campus at the time of your scheduled final exam, the final exam will also be cancelled, and your course grade will be determined by your already accumulated points.	http://www.umkc.edu/umkc/alert/ http://www.umkc.edu/police Police: 816-235-1515 or 911

The establishment of the criteria for grades and the evaluation of student academic performance are the responsibilities of the instructor. This grade appeal procedure is available only for the review of allegedly capricious grading and not for review of the instructor's evaluation of the student's academic performance. Capricious grading, as that term is used here, comprises any of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The assignment of a grade to a particular student on some basis other than the performance in the course; 	http://www.umkc.edu/catalog/gradeappeals

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The assignment of a grade to a particular student according to more exacting or demanding standards than were applied to other students in the course; (Note: Additional or different grading criteria may be applied to graduate students enrolled for graduate credit in 300- and 400-level courses.) The assignment of a grade by a substantial departure from the instructor's previously announced standards.
